attention of the world within the past three days. The ordinary life of the metropolis again has fallen back to its accustomed channels. Meantime, however, preparations are going forward for the imposing state funeral which will be given to the late mon-arch. These arrangements are being made behind closed doors, the chief efficers of the royal household and of the Cabinet shaping the various pre-liminaries. Thus far little of the de-tail has been made public.

First Meeting of Cabinet.

Chief attention to any was control.

Chief attention to-day was centred in the first meeting of the Cabinot

In the first meeting of the Cabinet since the return of Premier Asquith, folowing the death of King Edward. It does not appear, however, that the ministers mave and special consideration to the grave political questions new pending.

They discussed the appointment of a committee to revise the civil list, as necessituted by the change of sovereignty. The question of the future policy of the government in regard to the constitutional issue was touched upon, but if any conclusion was reached no announcement to that effect was made.

SPIDERS AFTER LAURELS TO-DAY Your Nerves must be fed with pure, rich blood, or there will be trouble. Poorly fed nerves are weak nerves; and weak nerves mean nervousness, and weak nerves mean nervousness, when we weak nerves weak nerves.

Spiders will play their second game with Hampden-Sidney. The game will probably be close, for the records of the two teams are about oven, although the Prince Edward boys won out in the first game at Hampden-Sidney by a score of 2 to 1. The contest here today is expected to be the one in which Richmond will take the laurels Gwathmey, who pitched at Hampden-Sidney and held them to two hits, is in better form than he was then, and will pitch the game to-day at Brond Street Park for the Spiders, The lineup for the Spiders will be:

Michaels came here from Steuben-wille, O., in the trade that sent Andy Lawrence to that team. He worked only in a portion of one game. In this he held his opponents down well but Manager Smith thinks better of Lloyd, the southpaw he picked up in Norfolk, and he decided that Michaels should be released.

Girl Said to Have Wed King George V.

MRS. TREVELYN NAPIER, DAUGHTER OF ADMIRAL SEYMOUR.

An almost forgotten romance, last recalled at the marriage of the thei, Duke of York to Princess May of Teck, is again being discussed. It involved the name of Miss Mary Seymour, daughter of Admiral Sir Michael Culme Seymour, and the "Sallor Prince," as he was known before the death of his brother, the Duke of Clarence, heir apparent to the throne. It was persistently rumored that the daughter of the admiral had been privately married to the Duke of York at Malia. So strongly had the belief in some such ceremony become grounded that the royal family considered it necessary for the Archbishop of Can terbury, in his capacity as primate of the Church of England, to issue from the alter a denial that any eccessisatical obstacle existed to the Duke of York's marriage to Princess May of Teck. Not very long after the celebration of this wedding, Miss Seymour was
